About This Game

Welcome to the nightclub! A place for groovy music, best DJs and for sure pretty girls. And oh, those girls... They so love to dance! And of course, they love to dance to their favorite music, and their favorite artist! As for you, Mr DJ, you should know that being a good DJ is being a good psychologist, you always need to know how to get on the right side of the people on the dancefloor.

Our girl loves different styles of music, just try and see what she likes. Her musical preferences may change over time. Your goal is to guess her preferences. The more matches you make, more chances she will like you and you will proceed to the game.

Game Highlights

- Find a proper approach to the girl on the dancefloor
- Try to guess what music she likes, and what she will like over time
- Play your own music to diversify the gameplay

Club lightning: There are some problems with this game, first of all that it's marketed as a game at all, instead of a media player is beyond me. Why do I get a dancing girl that changes her mind every 5 Seconds about what music she likes? she will say slow songs are too fast for her and apparently she doesn't like Japanese music! I do like the graphics, the club lighting and being able to add your own music. But this could be improved as well by simply have microphone permissions and allowing her to listen to whatever you're listening to, this way the player could set up a playlist right through a radio or streaming service and she could react to that. She should like whatever music you're playing. But if she loves it then you can unlock outfits for her to wear, and items for the club to look cool. Needs more. 3 out of 10

We made a youtube tutorial series!:

Hi everyone!

We're very excited to finally launch Calcflow tomorrow! In order to demonstrate how powerful this tool can be, we made a few tutorials. Please check them out here:

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=L-S7nP-ojqo&list=PLjQh_Yi8CoBzW3k1QavOOaseD7XeN_xK

Have a great week!

. We're live!:

We're live! Thanks for all the amazing support. Please let us know what you think of the app!

We also have a website too! Visit <http://www.calcflow.io> for more awesome mathematical VR content!

Stay tuned for awesome updates such as exporting parametric functions as OBJ/STL/etc to model or 3D print!

We're also looking to add more mathematics libraries. Please let us know which ones we should prioritize!. Calcflow Complete Matryx Integration into Calcflow:

We've integrated the latest version of our blockchain software, Matryx, with Calcflow, our vector calculus software for virtual reality. If you're unfamiliar, Matryx is a decentralized platform for research and collaboration, tracking and rewarding contributors with a tournament-bounty system. Calcflow is not only free but also open-source to foster education and the ability to remix the application in any way you wanted. Our newest update continues to reflect these core values of open-source, collaboration, and innovative iterations.

If you have VR hardware, you can try out the Matryx integration on Calcflow via Oculus:

<https://www.oculus.com/experiences/rift/1143046855744783/>

or Steam:

<https://store.steampowered.com/app/547280/Calcflow/>

This integration comes with several optimizations for Matryx as well.

* You no longer need to run an Ethereum node locally to use it.

* You can now load your private, encrypted key for Ethereum transactions made in virtual reality.

For those that don't have access to VR hardware, you can still visit <https://alpha.matryx.ai/> to use the web based version of the Matryx platform.

Finally, an updated white paper has been published. Visit our website to see its latest iteration.
