Surfcam,.Q: How to have a shaded tree in postscript I am trying to write a presentation using postscript. I am using the class of the book, treeof, available through the TikZ library. Is there anyway to have the nodes shaded in the tree, so that it looks like in this image: The images for nodes are generated by the class. I am not sure if this is even possible, but looking at the documentation is not helping. A: Here is a starting point: \documentclass{article} \usepackage{tikz} \usetikzlibrary{trees} \tikzset{ central/right/.style = { parent anchor = {north west}, child anchor = {south east}, parent anchor = {north east}, child anchor = { central/right, inner sep=0, nodes=circle, draw=none, font=\sffamily\small }, right/.style = { central/right,
